Ending homelessness, one person at a time.
Connections for the Homeless serves and catalyzes our community to end homelessness, one person at a time.

That is an eye-popping number! It represents all the people we served during Fiscal Year 2018, which, we are proud to report, is a 35% increase over the prior year.

Last year, Connections for the Homeless served as a safety net for 1,131 of our neighbors providing more of the things, big and small, that people need to take care of themselves and their families.

Throughout this report you will see our transformation over the last two fiscal years. Driven by our newly articulated core values, we made incredible strides toward ensuring that everyone in our community can access the tools and resources they need to live, thrive, and reach their full potential.

With our community’s support, we:

• Restored drop-in services to 5 days a week so more people can access showers, laundry, food, clothing, physical and mental health services, and case management support;
• Launched a community-supported homelessness prevention fund to keep more families from facing eviction and homelessness;
• Doubled our capacity to offer more immediate physical and mental health services;
• Added accessible and family-friendly drop-in services at our administrative offices; and
• Launched an advocacy program focused on increasing affordable housing in the region, which has already yielded 56 new obtainable homes for our low-income neighbors.

All of this work and growth means that more families were prevented from losing their homes, more basic necessities and nights of shelter were provided to people living on the street, and more people were connected to safe, stable housing.

All of this work and growth is thanks to our community’s generous support, resilient participants and compassionate staff. This synergy between community, participants and staff is illustrated in our new logo, and it is what makes fulfilling our mission possible.

And we are just getting started. We have even more plans for growth in the year ahead.

I look forward to continuing to partner with you as we work to serve and catalyze our community to end homelessness, one person at a time.

In gratitude,

Betty A. Bogg
Executive Director

WHAT WE DO

Our most effective solution for ending homelessness is keeping people in their home in the first place.

Job loss. Medical emergencies. Divorce. When people experience a sudden change in finances, we ensure the entire household can stay in their home and avoid the costs and trauma of an eviction and homelessness.

We provide financial assistance for back payments on rent, mortgage, and utility bills, along with case management to help people get back on their feet.

Prevention

STORIES OF SUCCESS

Back on Track

“Sondra” came to Connections in a crisis. For many years, she was gainfully employed as a mail carrier and able to provide for herself and her children. Then, she had to take time off work for a planned surgery and recovery. Prior to her leave, she was promised a light-duty position upon her return. However, when Sondra was ready to come back to work she was informed that she was being let go.

Without an income, she quickly fell behind on rent. She heard about short-term rental assistance and was referred to Connections. Sondra was quickly connected to our Prevention Specialist, and we were able to provide critical financial assistance to help her and her children avoid eviction. Sondra has since secured full-time employment, is keeping her family in their home and schools, and is back on her feet.
Our overnight shelter and drop in center help people living on the street access the most basic necessities to meet their needs.

We provide trauma-informed services that help our participants move beyond meeting their day-to-day needs and start thinking about their future. This includes an overnight shelter that operates 365 nights a year, in addition to a daytime drop in center that includes case management, health and wellness services, showers, laundry, food, clothing, and storage.

STORIES OF SUCCESS

A Bright Future

After fleeing a domestic violence situation, “Cynthia” had been living on the streets in Evanston off and on for at least six months when she came to access our drop in services. A few weeks later, Cynthia got a job at a nursing home, making a little over $12/hour, but still had nowhere to sleep at night or keep her belongings. Over the next 8 months, we supported her with basic needs, including food and clothing, a place to take a shower, do laundry and store her things, but most importantly, with case management services.

When Cynthia needed a bus card, Connections provided it, and when she needed a uniform for work, Connections purchased it.

While homeless, Cynthia was awarded employee of the month - a true testament to her resilience and courage. A few months ago, Cynthia moved into her own apartment. We provided the move-in fee and first month’s rent so she could quickly settle into her new home.
Ending homelessness is our mission.

We operate a range of housing programs to help people move from homelessness to housing as quickly as possible.

Supportive Housing
Being homeless is traumatic, and the trauma doesn't disappear once people are housed. With ongoing, targeted support and long-term rental assistance, we help individuals and families move forward with dignity and confidence and maintain their housing, for good.

Transitional Housing
We help build the economic and housing security of families and transition aged youth (18 to 24 years of age) who are homeless or unstably housed.

STORIES OF SUCCESS

Moving Families Forward

More than six years ago, “Jordan” and his mother were living in a shelter in the northwest suburbs. At the time, Jordan was a junior in high school and doing his best to maintain his grades and care for his mother. Jordan’s mother suffers from debilitating chronic health conditions, physical disabilities, and mental health challenges that make it difficult for her to maintain a job, and therefore a steady income.

Jordan and his mother were connected to our Supportive Housing program and they both continue to make tremendous progress toward achieving their goals. Jordan graduated from high school, completed an accelerated paralegal studies program at Robert Morris University Illinois, and is currently pursuing his law degree at Loyola University. At the same time, he has maintained a part-time job as a dietary aid while also serving as the primary caregiver for his mother. His mother is managing her health and building trusting social connections. Their continued resilience, ambition, and hope propels them forward and moves them beyond past trauma so that they can live and thrive in our community.
WHAT WE DO

Advocacy

We’re tackling the root causes of homelessness and addressing the affordable housing crisis head-on.

Our Joining Forces for Affordable Housing coalition is increasing awareness about this crisis and supporting efforts to add more affordable housing in our region.

On the local level, our focused efforts resulted in 56 new units of affordable housing development in Wilmette and Evanston during the last year alone.

On the State level, we are working with our partners to ensure all families have access to the most cost-effective and proven approach to end homelessness, which is preventing it in the first place.

On the Federal level, we are joining nationwide initiatives to increase awareness and investment in housing and community development programs.

“I went from being homeless to getting a job and an apartment... I am forever grateful to everyone at Connections for treating me like a human being, for listening, and for trusting me.”
